

Product Description

VisionAid™ is a treatment control device for Age-Related Macular Degeneration (AMD).

Goals & Challenges

- Conceptual development, product definition
- Device prototyping for evaluation of the technology in clinical settings
- Interface development with an ergonomic design

StarFish Solution

- Product & user interface development
- Detailed industrial & mechanical design under ISO 13485
- Designed for patient comfort and adjustable for different facial geometries

Summary Results

- Alpha prototype for further clinical testing and to obtain financing for commercialization
- Designed & manufactured by StarFish Medical for Vision Aid Inc.

Build Success with the Right Device™

